

Name _____ Period _____

Description	Points
Organization – Report is organized so that the information it contains is readily available. 2 points      Information can be clearly and easily found 1 point      Information can be found with some effort 0 points      Information is difficult to find
Completeness – Report contains all the: 1. Description of your experiment written so that someone reading the report can reproduce your experiment. 2. Table of your raw data clearly labeled so that someone reading the report can verify your graph and calculations. 3. Graph of your raw data. 4. Model of your data including your reasons for picking the model you did. The model must include a table like that on page 37 of your text and a function. 5. A least one paragraph (for a total of three) on each bullet point on page 37 of your text under Writing A Report. 6. Self Assessment. 2 points      All six items included. 1 point      No more than one item missing. 0 points      More than one item missing.
Presentation and Accuracy - Clarity of report and validity of mathematics 6 points      Report is crystal clear and uses mathematics correctly 3 points      Report is unclear or uses mathematics incorrectly 0 points      Report is unclear and uses mathematics incorrectly
Total

Turn in your report by Friday Sep 21 for a preview. I will return previewed reports with comments for correction.